WORKING WITH DISASTER RECOVERY VENDORS

TARA KENNEDY, NATIONAL HERITAGE RESPONDER, AIC & PRESERVATION SERVICES LIBRARIAN, YALE UNIVERSITY
WHICH COMPANY DO I CHOOSE?

- “Disaster Recovery Vendors”
  - DRaaS – Disaster Recovery as a Service
    - Software / IT backup and recovery
    - Business Continuity/ Business Solutions Management
    - 6th hit down = Records Recovery Vendors – National Archives

- “Emergency Recovery Vendors Museums”
  - Smithsonian Archives
  - Metropolitan Museum of Modern Art
  - National Archives
WHICH COMPANY DO I CHOOSE?

- Name recognition is not enough
- Which services do they offer?
- Vet the companies thoroughly
- Call a conservator!
  - National Heritage Responder hotline:
    - 202.661.8068
    - info@conservation-us.org
SAMPLE QUESTIONS TO ASK THE VENDOR

- Can the work be done at your institution, or does it have to go offsite?
- Do they own or lease their equipment?
- Which drying technologies do they offer?
- How do they track items while they are at the vendor’s facility?
- How do they treat for mold/ bacteria/ viruses/ parasites?
- Third-party involvement?
- Permanent or temporary staff?
What type of collections are affected?
Do you have a priority list for your collections?
  - http://guides.library.yale.edu/preservationservices/collectionstool
Facility amenities?
Insurance coverage?
IS THE VENDOR DOING “THE RIGHT THING”?

- Agree on expectations
  - Scope of Work or Project Plan
- Contractual agreement
- Internal project manager
- Consult a conservator before agreeing to anything
OTHER HELPFUL HINTS

- Secure a vendor before the emergency
- Local freezing capabilities to buy time
- Have an emergency plan
- Emergency supplies
QUESTIONS?