Museum Storage Resources

Re-ORG <https://www.iccrom.org/themes/preventive-conservation/re-org/method>

The RE-ORG Method is a step-by-step approach to help those who work with cultural collections to reorganize their current storage rooms, focusing on the creative, yet safe, use of existing resources. The Method has four phases:

- Getting started: create the best possible conditions for a successful storage reorganization
- Condition report: document the current state of storage to identify major threats affecting the collection
- Action plan: define the necessary tasks and establish a project timeline
- Implementation: implement the action plan and ensure ongoing monitoring
